PROCEDURAL GUIDANCE FOR PESTICIDE ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL WORK BOOK

Introduction

This work book is designed to help you answer questions of pesticide use enforcement procedure and interpretation using the manual for Procedural Guidance for Pesticide Enforcement Personnel. We will guide you through the various sections of the accompanying manual, we will pose several questions in a section so that you become familiar with the layout and the type of information assembled there. Each interpretation has a source listed at the end of the subject.

We must first emphasize that neither the Training Liaison Committee, who compiled this manual, nor Senior Pesticide Use Specialists in Regional Offices, have the authority to change an interpretation. Therefore there is little point in advocating a contrary position to an established interpretation. There is an established procedure for bringing about a change in the manual. You should use the procedure as laid out in the introductory letter to the manual.

We want you to write the answer to the question, the manual page number and the source of the policy after each question. Sometimes the source will be a code section but more often it will be an Enforcement Letter.
